

“Living just to live”

We live on the phase of this earth as an animated or inanimate being, subjected to unavoidable a law that governs the organic and inorganic. With the passage of time there's always a challenge, overall the survivability, in an existentialism plan generated by different circumstances, only to get more adverse as each passing day, caused by the ignorance and disparagement of divine and spiritual laws. A part of being valued, humans possess two singular characteristics: 1) Intelligent reasoning and 2) the freedom of choice. At the beginning Mankind was made to -the image and likeness of God itself- and was given, the grand opportunity to administer everything created by the almighty God, under His guidance and expectation of an eternal friendship, obedience, and subjection. God should have been the cause and reason of his life, because He is the creator and architect of “absolutely everything”. However, at not finding the reason of life, it start then a life "live just to live." In other words, it's a life with temporary and short term goals, worrying about worldly pleasures; thus regressing to an inferior life form such as plants, animals, and others, that only live out their biological function; born, reproduce, and die, forming part of -humus-, which in turn is destined for destruction by the curse of sins and disobedience. From the first man, Adam, to all mankind, all behave and think alike, except for the exemplars that serve in a divine plan, which equates to a condemnation under the principle: "The soul who sins shall die. The son shall not bear the guilt of the father, nor the father bear the guilt of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon himself" (Ez. 18:20). After the fast of forty days and forty nights, Jesus Christ was submitted to the premise of -living just to live-, was offered bread, glory and fame, it was a singular proposal -offering the entire world-, but Jesus responded, “It is written, ‘Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God’” (Mat 4:1-11). Christ, initiated the new era of obedience, under the intelligence and freedom of choice, for the abandonment of existentialism principles and to aboard the correct route based on perfect plans and to re-encounter with the tree of life. In this perfect route, mankind can aim for eternal goals under the presence of God, in where new expectation are offered to all of us not - just living just to live-without reason or cause, but in eternal promise by faith. Let's seek through the word and the presence of the Holy Spirit, precise and real objectives, permanent and noble wishes through the consistency of the powerful gospel; the path that will guide us to perfection. And by revelation and understanding our origins, course, and destiny, seek the commandments, laws, and precepts, to thus fight against our evil desires and lowly passions with a definite decision: "looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God" (He.12:2). To which the apostle Paul expresses, "I have been crucified with Christ; it is no longer I who live, but Christ lives in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me" (Gal 2:20). Examples we have.

Beloved brother and fellow servant of God: Do you believe to these words of promise, that He is preparing a place for us? If that's the case, I believe that together, we have found -a marvelous existence-. Therefore, don't "just live, just to live", better yet "let's die to live" because, even though controversial, there are eternal and faithful reasons to which one must be vigil and attentive. Thank You Lord for giving reason to my existence! Please give me the strength to reach your promises... So let it be. Amen.
